What's happening in our neighborhoods and schools...

ROGER BACON HIGH SCHOOL:

Last weekend at Roger Bacon High School, many of our kids from OLR parish or our youth group participated in the classic musical "Godspell". These students provided a delightful evening of entertainment, but more amazingly, shared the gospel of Jesus Christ in a very meaningful and profound way. Everyone was touched by their creative sets, programming, musical scores, and engaging performances of the crew. Congratulations to all of the young men and women for all of their hard work and dedication! Your work touched all of us!

ST. JAMES OF THE VALLEY SCHOOL: March Poetry Madness

If it's March it's time for March Madness at St. James of the Valley. Our version of March Madness is a little different from that of the NCAA. Ours involves poetry. Each student, from kindergarten through eighth grade, submits at least two poems published by national authors into their classroom contest. As the weeks progress the poems are read aloud, then voted onto the next round or "eliminated" into the hallway where they are posted for all to read.

By the first full week of April expect to see our hallways jammed with approximately 540 poems as each grade enters the Final Four. Better yet, expect to see poetic images crop up in written and oral language as everyone gets caught in the contagion of poetic license.

ST. XAVIER HIGH SCHOOL:

Cincinnati Shakespeare Company's touring division, the CSC Young Company, "let slip the dogs of war," by performing a slightly abridged version of Julius Caesar for St. X sophomores Friday morning. English teacher Alison Roberson arranged the visit and said it was the second time CSC has performed at St. X in her eight years. "This is a great way to get the kids to see Shakespeare is more than words on a page."
